<h1>Community Unites for Annual "Hope for the Holidays" Food Drive</h1>

<h2>Local volunteers aim to collect over 5,000 pounds of food this weekend.</h2>

<!-- Paragraph 1 -->

Residents across the Big Spring area are coming together this weekend for a massive food and clothing drive to support local shelters. The event, organized by the student council and local businesses, hopes to beat last year's record of 4,200 pounds of donations.

<!-- Paragraph 2 with a quotation -->

Organizers say the need is greater than ever this year. <q>Every single can or coat makes a huge difference for a family in our community,</q> said Sarah Jenkins, the lead coordinator for the event. Volunteers will be stationed at the high school parking lot from 8 AM to 5 PM on Saturday to collect items.

<!-- Paragraph 3 -->

If you are unable to make it in person, there are still ways to help. Online monetary donations are open until Sunday night, and every dollar goes directly to purchasing
